

Recruitment scams may involve offering fictitious job opportunities and requesting personal information and payments to process false applications.

Please be aware that Cambridge Suites Toronto will never request money from applicants at any point in the recruitment process, nor request personal information beyond what is required for a resume. All individuals who are successful in gaining an offer of employment from Cambridge Suites Toronto whether directly or indirectly, are always required to go through a formal recruitment process including formal interviews with the hiring management team.

Recruiting communications from free e-mail accounts such as Gmail, Yahoo or Hotmail, poor use of English and misspelling should be considered with caution. Also be wary of job offers that do not require an interview or job openings that are vague.

If you're concerned you've been contacted by an individual or organization posing as Cambridge Suites Toronto, we would advise you to forward the suspicious email or communication to your local police or legal authority.
